"PRESIDENT'S CONDITION GRAVE" SAYS TELEGRAM TO HIS FATHER

3 MINERS DROWNED BY CLOUDBURST IN INDIANA COUNTY

Kittanning, Pa., July 31.—Three miners are known to be dead as a result of a cloudburst, which struck the little town of Plumville, Indiana county late yesterday.

The three men were working in the mine of the Western-Mine Company when the cloudburst caused water to rush in on the shaft after doing great damage to the town. The men drowned were Gus Carlson, 40; Gus Tener, 25, and Emil Johnson, 34.

A score of other men were employed in the mine, but it was believed they escaped the rush of the water.

WOODRUFF TRYING HARD TO GET AID FROM S. S. LEWIS

Harriburg, Pa., July 31.—Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis will be party to proceedings against the State Treasurer in the event that he fails to sign warrants to pay employees whose salaries are now in dispute, according to Attorney General Woodruff today.

Failure of the Auditor General to comply with the request of the Attorney General to sign the warrants and present them to the Treasurer for payment in the opinion of the Attorney General, would constitute liability on his part.

Woodruff hoped today to bring the Auditor General in line with his views of the code with respect to the approval of requisitions.

RICHMOND SUFFERS HEAVY RAINFALLS WITH BIG DAMAGE

Richmond, Va., July 31.—Richmond's lower main business section was flooded last night and early today by a torrential rain, which did property and stock damage estimated at $200,000.

For three hours rain poured in sheets and water began rising in the lower valley in less than an hour after the storm broke.

Police and firemen were kept busy for hours rescuing more than one hundred people marooned in tottering houses. Beach guns, such as life savers use, were put into service to shoot ropes to those in distress. Eight feet of water covered Main street in front of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway station, boats being used by business houses on the opposite side of the street to salvage stocks.

COLLECTORS GET FUNDS FOR SHRINE OF ST. ANNE

Announcement was made in the Catholic churches of Altoona Sunday that work had been received from the Redemptorist Fathers of Canada, stating that no authorized collectors have been sent out from Canada to secure funds for the shrine of St. Anne in Canada.

Men, representing themselves as collectors for the shrine of St. Anne in Canada have been operating in Altoona within the past few weeks. Their plan has been to secure $3 from each person, $1 of which is said to pay for the little magazine "Annals of St. Anne," and the remainder to be devoted to restoring the basilica of the shrine recently destroyed by fire.

These collectors also operated in Clearfield a couple of weeks ago and collected many dollars. Some of those who paid part of the subscription have been notified to remit the balance to the New York office of the shrine, the collectors allege to represent.

One of these fellows, who gave his name as James while operating here was arrested in Piquette, last week and heavily fined for insulting a woman in whose home he was endeavoring to secure a subscription. It was found that the fellow's name was John J. Harrington, instead of James.

START WORK ON A BEAUTIFUL SHAFT; MITCHELL TRIBUTE

Scranton, July 31. (United Press) Work has been started under the supervision of Peter B. Sheridan, Hasilton, on the foundation for the John Mitchell monument which will be unveiled October 29, Mitchell Day, at Scranton Court House Square.

Mitchell was one of the founders of the United Mine Workers and served as International President during the strikes of 1900 and 1902.

The dedication will be made the occasion of a big anthracite celebration and labor leaders from all over the country are expected to attend.

KILLS CHILD, WIFE WHEN SHE REFUSES TO LIVE WITH HIM

Nant-y-Glo, July 30.—A stalwart miner's quest for love ended in death and an attempted suicide at Twin Rocks Saturday as unrequited love gathered another victim to its list.

"I won't, I won't live with you. I don't like you," Mary Sos, a 15-year-old wife, contemptuously told her husband. Enraged, Mike Sos, the man she took "for better or worse," chose the "worse" clause in his wife's wedding vow. Drawing a .32-caliber revolver from his pocket, he again asked his question.

"Mary, will you come home with me?"

His wife cast a withering glance at the man she had married.

"I don't like you, I don't. What's more, I won't live with you."

First Bullet in Breast.

The revolver barked five times. Mary Sos clutched her breast, where the first shot had taken effect. Then she fell dead.

Haunted by the last look in his wife's eyes, Sos fled wildly from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vargo at Twin Rocks, where his last attempt at reconciliation had met disdain and death. Into the back hall par near the house he stumbled. Clutching the revolver in his right hand he pressed the cold steel muzzle against his head and pulled the trigger.

Is Expected to Die.

Last night at Memorial hospital here surgeons worked to save the murderer's life. Sos' condition, they said, was critical. It is doubtful whether he will recover, it was stated early this morning.

NEW FOREST FIRE STARTER

Harriburg, July 1. (United Press) A new forest fire carrier has been discovered by the State Department of Forests and Waters. A district forester has reported that recently a burning pheasant flew across the valley and dropping among the leaves started a fire.

This is even rarer according to the announcement of the incident, than the report that the sun's rays concentrated by broken bottles along the rights of way of railroads started a forest fire.

COURT DECREES 30 MORE DAYS FOR JULY BUT AUGUST WILL BE A LONG MONTH ANYHOW FOR THIS "SHINER"

July Becquet gave way to August today and was taken off the calendar and out of the picture for the next 30 days by Judge Bell this morning July 31 as he is styled in the indictment as "Joey" as he calls himself, lives at Atlantic, above Houtzdale, and in these halcyon days when Atlantic moonshine was fought for at $7 per gallon at the door, was engaged in the gainful occupation of distilling a little for trade, but during the "lost days" of Atlantic was caught in the act and haled before the court for trifling with the law of the land.

July entered a plea of guilty on July 10th, but as he had a crop of rye in the ground or other farm work to do was allowed to go home to clean up that work before undergoing sentence. His house is now in order and this morning Becquet came to the Court House to receive his sentence. He was given $100 fine and costs and three months in jail with privilege of applying for a parole at the end of 30 days. Thus July will remain in total eclipse during August.

Methodists Of This District To Picnic At Lakeside Thursday

There are almost nine thousand Methodists in this section of the Altoona and Williamsport districts and some of the moving spirits of the church have evolved the idea of having a Methodist Day in this section.

The distance to Lakeside Park where the regular Methodist day is held is thought to be a desirable one and since the beautiful scenery of the park is available for their use, they see no reason for going farther away in search for amusement.

The day set is Thursday of this week and the committee has issued a call for an all day basket picnic with lunches served on the grounds at a nominal cost to all who wish to buy.

The speakers will be Rev. H. L. Jacobs, of Clearfield; Rev. J. C. Collins of Curwensville; Rev. J. E. Skillington of Altoona and Superintendent Pyles of the Williamsport District will deliver the principal address at 10:30.

Special vocal music will be furnished by Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Graham of Patton; Mrs. John Chaplin, of Clearfield; Mrs. A. S. Rosenberg, of Philadelphia and Harold Pearson of Philadelphia. With Mr. Crawford Lindsey as violinist and Mrs. George Mock as reader, this promises to be a program of the highest type.

Everybody is invited.

San Francisco, July 31.—"The President's condition is most unfavorable" said a telegram today from Dr. C. E. Sawyer to President Harding's father, Dr. George T. Harding of Maion.

Dr. Harding now in his 80th year does not plan to go to his son's bedside. "As I understand the bulletin from Warren's sick room, the crisis will have been passed before I could reach San Francisco," the aged father said.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURT OF PHILA. PROVES FINE THING

Philadelphia, July 31. (United Press)—The Domestic Relations Division of the Municipal court handled more than 26,000 cases during the year of 1922, according to a report recently made public.

The system employed makes it possible to settle a fair percentage of the cases out of court thereby reducing the number of cases brought before the judge and allowing him time to give more careful consideration to the more complicated cases.

The majority of these cases have to do with desertion or non-support and 82.9 per cent were filed by women, the report states.

"When the complaint comes in she is given a sympathetic hearing," the report said. "The husband is then invited to come before the interviewer, and tell his side of the trouble. If the husband fails to appear a summons is issued and he is brought in."

"If the stories of the husband and wife conflict seriously, the case is referred to a probate officer for investigation. After both sides of the trouble have been heard separately an effort is made to have the husband and wife come in together and discuss their problems."

Mrs. Isaac Stage celebrated her 70th anniversary at her home on West Fourth avenue today. Several of her brothers and sisters and other relatives dropped in at her home at noon today and after congratulating Mrs. Stage on her arrival at another milestone on life's journey enjoyed an appetizing dinner.

MAY BE SERIOUS

San Francisco, July 31.—"The President's condition is most unfavorable" said a telegram today from Dr. C. E. Sawyer to President Harding's father, Dr. George T. Harding of Maion.

Dr. Harding now in his 80th year does not plan to go to his son's bedside. "As I understand the bulletin from Warren's sick room, the crisis will have been passed before I could reach San Francisco," the aged father said.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—In a five-roomed "White House" on the Palace hotel here, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, is fighting for life.

He lay gravely ill today in a bed of solid walnut, surrounded by paneled walls, hung with tapestry in a suite occupied by but three other persons since it was constructed some 15 years ago. He was attended by five physicians and waited upon by his ever-faithful wife.

Outside this suite some 15 newspaper correspondents, numbers of secret service men and miscellaneous attendants walked quietly to and fro in an atmosphere heavy with smoke of untold numbers of cigarettes and countless cigars.

A bouquet of gladioli and asters stood down the corridor, mute reminder that it marks the line beyond which no one was supposed to pass to the President's sick room.

Mr. Harding occupied the President's suite as the fourth guest who has ever used it. Presidents Taft and Roosevelt occupied it and later the King of Belgium. Next week General Pershing was to have been assigned to it as a special honor but now this plan has been abandoned.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—At 10:00 a. m. physicians attending President Harding issued the following statement of the President's condition at 9:00 a. m.:

"The President had a fairly comfortable night with considerable restful sleep."

"His temperature at 9:00 was 100; pulse, 120; respiration, 40 and regular."

"There has been no extension of the pneumonia arisen and heart action is definitely improved."

"Nourishment and fluids are being taken regularly. Elimination is satisfactory."

"He expressed himself as feeling better and less exhausted."

Signed: C. E. Sawyer, M. D.; Ray Lyman Wilbur, M. D.; C. M. Cooper, M. D.; J. T. Boone, M. D.; Hubert Work, M. D.

Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal. President Harding lay gravely ill today, fighting for life against new complications including a touch of pneumonia that set in during the night.

At 4:00 o'clock this morning all was silent in Mr. Harding's chamber and those who waited anxiously outside took this as a hopeful sign that the President might be sleeping, gaining strength for the brave struggle he is making against death.

At 5:00 a. m. today, four hours had passed without any sign of activity in the President's suite, giving watchers reason to believe the executive was enjoying a fairly satisfactory rest.

HUNDREDS SEARCH MOUNTAINS FOR GANG OF BANDITS

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 31.—Hundreds of armed policemen trudged wearily through the rain and mud this morning surrounding West Mountain near Taylor, Lackawanna county, where the seven bandits who shot a Laurel Line interurban train yesterday killed one person, wounded four others and escaped with a $1000 pay roll, are believed to be hiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson were advised by wire this morning of the death last evening at Atlantic City of their grandson, little Gilbert Landy, 22-month-old son of Gilbert and Esther Robinson Landy, of Mahaffey. The little one had suffered an attack of double pneumonia several months ago and death was due to a complication of that trouble as a result of that attack.

Powell Weaver, Noted Concert Organist, To Give A Recital Friday

An unusual musical treat is in store for all who wish to attend on Friday evening of this week when Powell Weaver, a native of Clearfield who is visiting here, will give a pipe organ recital.

Mr. Weaver is a concert organist, he having that classification in the Kansas City, Mo., Rotary Club of which he is a member. He is also the official organist for Rotary International, the grand lodge of all Rotary Clubs.

The concert will be given Friday evening at the Trinity Methodist church and no admission will be charged but a collection will be lifted for the benefit of the "Elevator Fund" started by the Women's Auxiliary to the Clearfield hospital.

The local Rotary Club has been requested to supply the ushers for the recital and no doubt will be glad to perform this service as a mark of respect to their illustrious fellow Rotarian.

SECOND VICTIM OF SPEEDING CAR DIED YESTERDAY EVENING

DuBois, Pa., July 31.—Miss Anna Wallace, who was injured in the same automobile accident Sunday afternoon that resulted in the death of Miss Mary Rokoski, died at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Maple Avenue hospital. At the time the first account of the accident was written it was not generally known that Miss Wallace had been seriously injured, the reports stating that she had suffered severe lacerations and bruises. But it developed that her spleen had been crushed, and she gradually grew worse until death came at the hour stated above.

The other persons injured in the wreck are getting along fairly well and it is believed that all of them will ultimately recover.

Dr. J. I. Pollum, county coroner, in pannelled a jury yesterday to investigate the circumstances in connection with the accident, and this jury deliberated yesterday afternoon, hearing several witnesses in the case.

It developed at the hearing that Wallace, the owner and driver of the car, does not have an owner's license or a driver's license, and that he was running at a fast clip when the car turned over.

The investigation will be continued today, and in addition to probing into the death of Miss Rokoski, the jury will take up the death of Miss Wallace, adding the circumstances in her death, which, of course, will be almost identical with those attendant upon the tragic death of Miss Rokoski.

Miss Wallace was a sister of "Choc Choc" Wallace, the driver of the car, and as a result of the tragic death of Miss Rokoski and his sister, the driver is frantic.

PENFIELD MAN HIRED ANOTHER TO PROVIDE "MOUNTAIN LAMB" COSTS HIM $100 FOR DESPICABLE ACTION

Venison is always considered more or less of a delicacy, but it certainly comes a "leedle bit" high at 3100 per quarter these days. At least that is no doubt the opinion of L. W. Smith at Penfield. According to State Game Protector E. Clair Kelley, of DuBois, Smith called an employee of his at his mines, one George Hollabaugh, into conference on Sunday last and said "George, isn't it about time we had another mountain lamb?" George opined "it durn near was" and along towards evening of the Sabbath day Hollabaugh sneaked out to a salt lick he had already prepared at the old Blackwell dam on Laurel Run, about six miles from Penfield.

With his Winchester strapped to his back Hollabaugh climbed his scaffold tree just as the sun sank in the west down behind the roof of Smith's house in Penfield. Hollabaugh took his place on the platform, sighted his gun carefully at the "hoking place" and took up his vigil. He remained there fighting gnats and punkies, while Smith waited comfortably at home, until about midnight, when an unsuspecting deer, no doubt with a couple of young fawns at her side, walked boldly into the lick. The instant the woods pirate in the tree heard the doe at the lick he fired and the ball from his rifle sped unerringly, as no doubt many a one had before, through the body of the doe and she dropped to the ground dying while the motherless little fawns started by the shot leaped into the brush and hid to await the coming of their mother who would never join them again.

Hollabaugh, his dirty work done, crawled down that tree and after hurriedly dressing the deer, loaded it up and soon had it back home. When Smith arranged to have "George do it," he also told him to fetch his share to the house and leave it on the back porch. So upon his arrival home George dashed off a hind quarter of the deer and placed it where Smith had directed that it be placed.

"Murder will out," as a general proposition, and while it may not have done so many times before for this pair, it did this time and word of the illegal killing soon reached the ears of State Game Warden E. Clair Kelley, at DuBois. Kelley got a search warrant for Hollabaugh's boarding house and going to Penfield secured the assistance of Constable Chambers and a brief search disclosed the carcass of the doe, with one quarter missing.

Hollabaugh claimed that he and his family of boarders had eaten the missing portions but Kelly couldn't see it that way and insisted on knowing what had become of it. Hollabaugh refused to squeal on his partner until he was taken before a Justice of the Peace. He was fined $100 and costs for killing a deer at a lick and when told he was subject to a total fine of $425 and would be made pay it if he didn't tell who got the missing portion of the deer, Hollabaugh then decided to come across and gave the facts as outlined to us by the Game Protector and tucked upon in this story.

Armed with Hollabaugh's confession Game Protectors Kelly, Davis of Clearfield and Turley of Ridgway, dropped in on Smith at Penfield yesterday with a warrant for his arrest and no game law violator in the land was more surprised than was he when Kelly flashed the warrant on him. He attempted a half-hearted bluff, but Hollabaugh's confession soon punctured the bluff and Smith decided discretion to be the better part of valor by also confession his part in the illegal killing and paying his $100 fine and costs.

GRANDSON DIES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robinson were advised by wire this morning of the death last evening at Atlantic City of their grandson, little Gilbert Landy, 22-month-old son of Gilbert and Esther Robinson Landy, of Mahaffey. The little one had suffered an attack of double pneumonia several months ago and death was due to a complication of that trouble as a result of that attack.

MAKERS OF STILL LIABLE TO ARREST SAYS PHILA. JUDGE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31. (United Press)—Manufacturers of stills, coils, copper kettles and other apparatus used in the manufacture of liquor will hereafter be considered as guilty as those who have them in possession or operation, according to a recent ruling of Judge William C. Lewis, in the Criminal Division of Municipal Court, who instructed Assistant District Attorney John C. Bell, Jr., to order arrest of all such offenders.

"These things" said the judge, "aid in the violation of the federal laws regarding prohibition and may be a temptation to those who see them on display and to those who want to get alcoholic drinks even if they have to make the stuff themselves."

LIGHTNING VICTIM OF JULY THE FOURTH DIED YESTERDAY

DuBois, Pa., July 31.—The heavy electrical storm that swept over this city on the morning of July 4, proved fatal at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when Frank McKolanis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKolanis, of Robinson street, died in the DuBois hospital of injuries received during the storm.

McKolanis, who was employed as a spinner-boy at the silk throwing factory, was crushed under brick's splintered when a bolt of lightning struck the 35-foot smoke stack at the silk factory, sustaining a fractured skull from which he never recovered.

He was hurried to the DuBois hospital, where he remained unconscious, despite the best efforts of the physicians, and passed away at the time stated.

The deceased was 18 years of age and is survived by several brothers and sisters in addition to his parents.

DRUNK, HE POURED OIL ON COMRADE, AND APPLIED MATCH

Nick Malenka, a miner, is now dead in a Johnstown hospital as a result of severe burns over his body and Frank Woydak, another miner, is in jail at Vintondale charged with pouring oil over Malenka's body and applying a match—all resulting from a drinking orgy said to have been staged near Vintondale yesterday afternoon.

Malenka was taken to the Johnstown hospital last night. His condition is extremely serious, institution attendants said, and he may not recover.

A crowd of aliens who work at the mines at Vintondale staged the party which resulted in a tragic finale to the drinking spree. All in the party are said to have imbibed freely.

Attempts to shed light on the party and on facts concerning Malenka's injuries were unsuccessful. The miner was too seriously injured to be interviewed, however, and the attempt was abandoned.

A complete investigation of the party and the burning of Malenka will be conducted when those who engaged in the drinking orgy have sufficiently recovered to answer questions, authorities said.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

The last legislature made a number of minor changes in the Game Laws of the State and as the frost will ere long be making its annual pilgrimage to the pumpkin, with the fodder in the dock nearby, we give some of the changes herewith, together with provisions as to bag limits and season changes. Wise up boys, or Kelly and Kevin may get you —

Section, 311 Certain Acts Declared Unlawful.—It is unlawful for any person,

(a) Except in the defence of person or property, to hunt or chase or to shoot at or kill or pursue with intent to take, kill, or wound any wild birds or wild animals with firearms or with a device of any kind propelling with force a leaden or metal pellet or bullet,

or through the use of traps, or with any other device or instrument, or by the use of dogs, without first securing a license and license tag, and wearing such tag and showing and displaying such license as required by the provisions of this article. Nothing in this clause shall be construed to prevent any person under the age of sixteen years to trap for fur-bearing animals or vermin without securing a license;

(b) Under the age of fourteen years to receive a hunting license under any circumstances whatsoever;

(c) Under the age of sixteen years to receive a hunting license without presenting a written request therefor, bearing the signature of his father or mother or legally constituted guardian;

(d) Under the age of sixteen years to use firearms of any kind for the purpose of hunting any wild birds or wild animals unless accompanied by a person twenty-one years of age, or over, unless such hunting is done on the premises whereon person resides;

(e) To procure a license under an assumed name, or in which an address other than his legal place of residence or other false statement whatsoever in securing a license;

(f) To lend or transfer a license or tag to another;

(g) To knowingly issue or aid in securing a license, and the provisions of this act, for his self or any other person not legally entitled to the same;

(h) After being denied the right to hunt by action of the board, to hunt anywhere during the period such right has been denied with or without a hunter's license; or

(i) After conviction of a second or subsequent offense of violating any of the game laws, to hunt anywhere with or without a hunter's license, for a period of two years from the date of such conviction.

Hunting Season—Bag Limits

Season 501. Open Season.—The open season for game birds and game animals, Sundays and other periods fixed by special regulations for particular counties excepted, is as follows:

Woodcock, from Oct. 1st to Nov. 30th.

Woodcock, from Oct. 1st to Nov. 30th.

All birds known as wild waterfowl, from Oct. 1st to Jan. 15th.

Origin of Pottery.
Pottery probably first came into use as a protection to the vessels made of mud, shells, basket work of reeds, young branches and other materials, and finally became the vessel itself because of its serviceable qualities instead of the frailty, earlier type.

Ruth's father gave her some pennies for Sunday school and she departed with a neighbor's little son, Harry, who was likewise prepared. Upon her return she said, "Father, just think; Harry didn't put his pennies in Sunday school. He put them in the slot machine, but the gum never came out, so you see, father, he just couldn't fool God, could he?"

Roman Soldiers' "Smokes."
Records recently discovered show that the Roman soldiers in Caesar's time had their pipes. Of course they knew nothing about real tobacco, as that had not at that period been discovered. However, they did have pipes and they smoked lavender and hemp, and from all accounts they liked it and it served almost the same purpose. In fact, it is said to have been a great solace and stimulus to the soldiers.

What Texas Mules Like.
Another thing that ladies who go to the farms must understand: Cussing the mules is not a matter of brutal anger, for these gentle animals are altogether lovable. It is merely because it is the music that mules love better than all others save the rustling of oats and the rattling of the corn in the trough.—Houston Post.

TRINITY CHURCH ITEMS

Seldom has the music in the Bible School been so heartily supported by the members as it was Sunday.

The orchestra was enlarged and the selections for it and the School were aptly made and finely rendered. But the study by the classes had an attractive period, for Matthew is an interesting apostle.

Special music by the chorus and its members featured both worship hours. In the congregations both morning and evening were many strangers and visitors, residents of adjoining states and far off. The exposition of Hebrews 2:9 took a wide scope, centered in Jesus, whose character met the moral requirements of the most exacting demand, and whose competency to resolve the most acute and difficult condition of nations and individuals, through the moral power of the Cross, offers hope to every man.

At night from 1 Kings 17: 1,3 and 18: 44-45, Elijah's contribution to religious thinking and enlargement of faith was presented. From a tribal god merging into a localized deity, resident in the wilderness area, the Hebrew's Jehovah, terminating a drought in Canaan, where they had been taught only the Tyrian deity, Baal, could send rain, Elijah's God was elevated to universal spiritual supremacy, with command of all the elements and forces of nature.

Then, with God having sway over all peoples,

With the frequency of murder, robbery and all kinds of outrages being paraded before us daily it is little wonder that people are taking no chances in matters of personal safety. That we have in our population a considerable number of men who are murderers at heart is a real cause for alarm and a careless handling or display of valuables should be avoided.

It is questionable, however, whether conditions are worse, and it is not likely that they are. News transmission which tells us this evening of all that happened today is responsible for the general belief that crime is rampant. While there are better things to read, it is not the function of the newspapers to provide it. Only the unusual gets a place in the news of the day. A mysterious murder gets the attention of the reader first and holds his interest to the last. The very fact that the greatest publicity is given to these few major crimes is a deterrent and, thanks to newspapers, it is no longer possible for hands of swindlers, pirates or bandits to operate upon an unsuspecting people.

How shall we guard against the holdup man, the thief, the bandit? First, by properly guarding money in transit. Second, by avoiding a display of valuables about the person. The gun is practically useless. It is seldom indeed that the possession of a gun has thwarted the holdup man or the robber, but the news columns are full of accounts of fatal accidents and misuses of guns kept or carried for self protection. Even the so-called watch dog is valueless. Modern criminals can easily dispose of a dog, and do. Not so with innocent children who are at times the victims of vicious brutes trained to attack any who approach them. Such an instance is reported from a little town in New Jersey. Two great Danes were owned by a man whose proud boast it was that nobody could gain entrance to his grounds with them on guard. A criminal would have easily put these brutes to sleep. A nine year old boy who knew nothing of the savage dogs, wandered onto the grounds while playing. The dogs set upon him and literally tore him to pieces. A crowd of fifty or more who gathered were forced to look upon this horrible sight.

The bandit is preferable to the man who puts his trust in vicious animals and is deserving of more consideration.

In fact bandits should be the least of our worries. Few indeed have been the deaths from banditry within a radius of one hundred miles of Clearfield. Our automobile death list from within that radius would look like the casualty list from the Somme and in spite of this we are told of somebody we know driving a car while drunk as though it is a huge joke.

We would prefer bandits to Mike Sos of Twin Rocks, who shot his fifteen year old child wife because she refused to live with him. Little Mary, his wife, was probably married to him when thirteen or fourteen; a common practice right here in enlightened America. In childish frankness she told him her thoughts. She is dead but she is better off. We have read of Turkish girls killing themselves rather than submit to marriage to one not of their choosing.

Bandits are not really as dangerous as the man who drinks moonshine and while under its influence does fiendish things such as did Frank Woydak of Vintondale, who poured oil on the clothing of his buddy in a drinking bout and then set fire to him. Moonshine vendors are killing more people than bandits.

Bandits go out and kill their own prey. Not so with the Penfield man who hired another to do his illegal game shooting and thus depriving honest sportsmen of their privileges.

Bandits are not so bad after all.

CLEARFIELD TRUST CO.

"President's Condition Grave"

condition was grave was made by the five attending physicians in an official bulletin, issued at 9:15 p. m. last night, following an examination and consultation. This bulletin disclosed the fact that an ex-ray examination was made early in the evening, which had shown Mr. Harding to be suffering from broncho pneumonia of the right lung.

Outside the hotel the streets of San Francisco were gay with flags and welcoming decorations. This morning the President was to have received the joyous salutation of the city.

There will be no salutation today but from every corner of the city, every man and woman of every degree, station and walk in life, from officials and private citizens have come offers of aid and service.

Hospitals sent invitations but Dr. Sawyer announced he would not move the President to a hospital as he could be cared for just as well in the hotel.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—The President's five physicians gathered in his sick room early today to mark the progress of battle.

From their morning examination of the President and subsequent consultation, word was expected which would tell a nation whether Mr. Harding, guided by agents of science, will win.

Bulletin of the President's condition was promised as early as conditions in the sick room would permit.

This bulletin, it was expected, would show whether the broncho-pneumonia condition, which developed in the President's right lung with alarming suddenness last night had subsided or progressed unfavorably for the patient. It was also expected to reveal how Mr. Harding's heart, already overtaxed, is standing its task of combating poisons in the executive's system and congestion in the lungs.

All through the night Dr. C. E. Sawyer, Dr. Joel T. Boone and Dr. Rupert Work, all three physicians with the President's party alternated in keeping watch over him.

San Francisco, July 31.—President Harding is better this morning. A good night's rest, the best since he became ill has caused his personal physician Dr. Charles Sawyer to issue an optimistic statement on the President's condition, ending a night of anxiety caused by unfavorable developments last evening.

Dr. Sawyer told assembled newspaper men that he had seen the President at two o'clock and again shortly before eight o'clock.

"The President slept several hours resting well," Dr. Sawyer said. "His condition is well; his condition seems to warrant a statement that we are about to have clear sailing. You will understand that this statement of mine antedates the consultation of five doctors to be held later this morning following which an official bulletin will be issued, but I wanted to give you a general idea as to the President's condition this morning."

Ten Years of His Life Wasted.
A Frenchman spent ten years of his life inventing a noiseless clock. After he had succeeded, he found that nobody would buy a noiseless clock. People do not hear the steady tick-tick of the old clock on the mantel shelf, but the moment the clock is lost, they are in a terrible noise.

WEST SIDE M. E. CHOR HONORS DEPARTING MEMBER

Twenty members and friends of the choir of the West Side M. E. church held a surprise farewell party for Miss Dorothy Armstrong at the Hill Mill club house last evening. Miss Armstrong will go to Williamsport soon to become private secretary to President Long at Dickinson Seminary, and last evening's reception was given her in recognition of her faithful and very valuable services as a member of the choir.

An entertaining program of games and stunts had been worked out by those in charge and an evening of merriment was concluded by a tasty lunch. Miss Armstrong has been a most valuable member of the choir and although her friends wish her unbounded success in her new field they are loath to lose her delightful companionship.

DAVID W. CATHCART DIES

David W. Cathcart, a member of one of Clearfield county's best known families, died at his home, 1461 Washington avenue, Altoona, at 12:05 o'clock Monday morning, of Bright's disease, after an illness of more than two years.

The deceased was born in Knox township, this county, on Nov. 17, 1858, and made his home near New Millport until about 17 years ago, when he went to Altoona, where he had since resided.

Dave Cathcart was an honest, upright man. He was a hail fellow well met at all times and possessed a legion of warm friends in Clearfield county. He is survived by two brothers, Wesley and Grant Cathcart, of Olanta, and one sister, Mrs. Cora Shellow, of Tyrone.

Funeral services will be held at his late home in Altoona this evening at 8 o'clock and will be taken to Mt. Zion cemetery, near Olanta, on the New York Central train for interment.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY OCCASION

A few of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lewis of Glen Richy gathered at their home Friday evening to remind Mrs. Lewis it was her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent.

A delicious luncheon was served. At a late hour all departed for homes, wishing Mrs. Lewis many more such happy events. Those present were Mrs. Larson and daughter Edith, Mrs. Arthur Smith and granddaughter Leona Smith, Mrs. Alex Ward and little daughter, Mrs. Lynn Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis and daughter Velma, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Levin, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Lewis and little son Amos James.

Paradoxical.

New York, July 31.—President Harding's illness was an outstanding factor affecting trading in the New York Stock Exchange this morning. As a result of the President's condition the tone of the market was irregular. The general list reacted a point in early trading but later recovered substantially upon advice that Mr. Harding was somewhat improved.

IS OF INTEREST TO NUMBER OF LOCAL GOLFERS

Walter Hagen, open golf champion of 1922, and Joseph Kirkwood, Australian champion and a prominent figure in all the recent national and international golf competitions, will play 18 holes of match play on the grounds of the Punxsutawney Country club the afternoon of August 3.

Following the 18-hole match between the two celebrities Kirkwood, recognized as the greatest trick golf shot in the world will give an hour's exhibition.

The coming of Hagen, the premier of all golfers, and of Kirkwood, will make golfing history for Punxsutawney and vicinity. Both are recognized as the top notch golfers of America, and it is expected that pasture pool enthusiasts from throughout Western Pennsylvania will be here to see the play.

The match is scheduled to start at 2 p. m. on the afternoon of Wednesday, August 8. The admission fee will be $2.

Proper Disposal of Flags.
"Old and worn-out flags should be destroyed as a whole, privately, preferably by burning. Do not cast them aside or use them in any way that might be thought disrespectful to the flag," says the adjutant general of the United States army.

Liquid Fire

A liquid fire to the bedbugs, moths and roaches is what the new chemical discovery really is, although there is no damage to be done by using it to your springs, furniture or clothing.

This new chemical is known as Devil's Quietness, P. D. Q. Co. See but these few cents will have the power of ridding your house of bedbugs, moths and roaches if you purchase P. D. Q. It is used and recommended by the leading housewife and railroad companies at the rate of one quart of liquid fire to each bedbug, moth or roach. It can also be used in sealed bottles, and is non-toxic, liquid form.

LIMBER MINDS SAVE JARS

By Florence Davies

Scissors say that you can't believe what you read in the papers. Those of us who spent our lives within sound of the presses know that newspapers try to print the truth.

That's why the story of a man who fell from the third story window of a hotel and landed on his feet with no harm done but a broken heel, sets us to wondering.

Unlike scissors, we know that if the paper said so, it is probably true. But the incident seems almost impossible of belief.

Matching it is the tale of a baby who leaned against the screen of a fourth story window and landed in a flower bed below, not much the worse for his adventure.

These spectacular aerial adventures should not be taken as an encouragement to amateur aviators, but there is a worth while hint tucked away in each experience, at that.

The man who took the downward plunge fell in his sleep. Suffice to say that striking the ground served to wake him. But there can be no doubt that he owes his life to the fact that he chose his sleeping instead of his waking hours to walk out of a third floor window, because in his sleep he was utterly relaxed. So too, with the baby. He was too young to consider the matter seriously, and so he went volplaning down with muscles limber instead of tense.

If only we could all learn to take our bumps that way there would be fewer broken bones, and broken hearts and shattered nerves. But most of the time we fall hard. We tighten every nerve and muscle and beat our way against life that way.

Minds, as well as muscles, can be kept relaxed, if only we will learn the trick of it.

Pushing the street car or the bus with your mind all the way to town when we are late, doesn't get an inch of ground or save a moment. It just makes you more when you get there. Some people their minds tense all the time no matter what unpleasant strikes them something is a break. Nerves go smash 'who live like that!

Even getting ready to go on a vacation, or planning a new dress to be made over into a tense, has instead of a simple, easy one way we keep our minds in a state of tension. Some people take it easy along, and others almost hold their breath in their intensity of planning and shopping and striving to conditions meet their demands.

When a big principle is at an unyielding mind may be near. But the hard and fast, intense yielding attitude of mind is a to use on the little affairs of living.

Some people get just as over the purchase of a spool of thread or a little argument over it as of a shoe or the shade of a dress as they would over their soul's salvation. In that spirit, little annoyance and jar, just as little as would jar a body held rigid.

Take it gently; the going is easier and the journey smoother. Intensities are for only once in a life time. For the rest of it keep the mind relaxed. Disasters won't hurt half as much.

PLAYGROUND NEWS

Rainy weather is not good playground weather but the last week's attendance is 1916 for all the two last days, making the total for the season 9630—nearly as many as Clearfield's population. The Friday base ball between Witmer and East End was played off on the Hillsdale diamond yesterday afternoon, with a score 16-8 in Witmer's favor.

The regular base ball day has been changed from Friday to Thursday to suit the business of several of the players. The games this Thursday will be East End to Witmer and West Side to Reedsville.

The horseshoe schedule for August will simply repeat that of July as all teams have pitched an equal number of games.

July 31—Reed to E. E.; W. S. to Witmer.

Aug. 3—E. E. to W. S.; Witmer to Reed.

Aug. 7—Reed to W. S.; E. E. to Witmer.

Aug. 10—E. E. to Reed; Witmer to West Side.

Aug. 12—W. S. to Reed; Witmer to E. E.

Aug. 17—Reed to E. E.; W. S. to Witmer.

Aug. 21—W. S. to E. E.; Witmer to Reed.

The remainder of the schedule will be announced later as by that time the above schedule has been played the playground championship will be the matter needing settlement.

The West Side play party is to way over the trail for Grampian. We finally landed in Curwensville's suburban town and hit the state highway as far down as Stronach and then took the dirt road. This is the roughest section of road between Curwensville and Arizona. We got home all right. We met up with one or two good corn fields, but the oat crop will be almost a fizzle so far as the straw part is concerned. Selah!

Mr. and Mrs. William Post were the guests of honor outside of Henry.

The correspondent was sitting on the curbing yesterday afternoon, when Chief Clark came skidding along in his big touring car and invited your humble servant of the cross to take a ride out into the country. Thinking a little fresh country air would live up to a bit we hopped into the vehicle and were on our way, taking the river road to Lumber City, where the Chief had a little legal business to transact. The river road is a delightful drive and the roadbed was as smooth as portions of the state highways. The mountain scenery along his river drive is a joy to any artist's eye. We tarried a short space in the little ancient village, which by the way was a prominent town on the state map during the early days of lumbering activities, and the Chief, concluding the business which took him up there, we rolled on up the river until we reached a town known as Bell's Landing. There are no many houses in this village but if we are permitted to judge from the manner in which the properties are managed the people must all be doing well and prospering. A short pause was made at the Mitchell store for refreshments. Even in this remote section we were able to find Clearfield ice cream and DuBois "budweiser" drinks. The natives back us a little far out when we lined up to the car seat and then our engineer opened wide the throttle and we were on our way.

have a complete program of playground activities. The other wards are getting in on this with match games in volley and horseshoes. East End and Reedsville girls will play West Side in volley and the Witmer boys, East End will pitch Witmer and Reedsville pitch the West Side team after which the winners will play off. These are not championship games but rivalry is strong and the outcome will be interesting. All games will start promptly at 7 p. m. Other features on the party program will be announced later in the week.

Beets Help Soil.

Beet crops have the effect of stimulating the soil. Observations made abroad show that after beets have been grown on the land there has been an increase in the yield of wheat of 5.50 bushels per acre; rye, 1.50; barley, 6.51, and oats, 5.77. Cattle have increased and the net income has been raised as high as 70 per cent.

To Make Hot Water Bottle Stay Hot.

To fill a hot-water bottle for an invalid, fill it half full and lay the bottle flat, holding the mouth up until water appears in the neck of the bottle. Then screw in the stopper, thus excluding the air. The bottle will be soft and the water will keep hot longer.—Designer.

Soul That Is Truly Great.

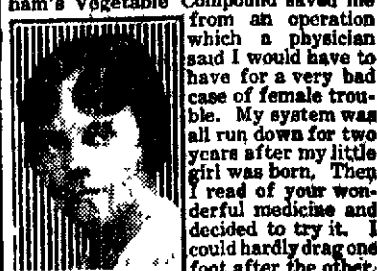

Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions about us and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the peace and sweetness of solitude.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IMA HEWITT, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Undertaker Invented Phone.

Inventors who have new ideas which are foreign to their vocations or lines of business may derive encouragement from the fact that the inventor of the first practical system of automatic telephony was Almon B. Strowger of Kansas City, who took out a patent in 1888. The inventor of the Strowger system was an undertaker who was in no way connected with electrical engineering or with any telephone enterprise.

Just What She Wanted.

There was a shriek and a splash, followed by another splash immediately afterward, as the would-be rescuer swam to where the lady had disappeared under the water. He caught her as she struggled to the surface and sought to calm her. "Don't struggle, madam," he spluttered. "We are quite safe; the lake is quite calm and as clear as a mirror and—" "Well, let go my arms, then," said the now comforted lady, "and let me look into it. I think my hair is coming down."

Trebles Hardness of Leather.

A Norwegian engineer claims that he has discovered a process by which leather can be made two or three times as hard as it is normally, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This is of very special interest in these days of high prices for footwear and other leather goods. While the leather can be made as hard as wood, it does not lose its elasticity, it is said, and acquires greater resistance to heat and moisture.

3 MINERS DROWNED BY CLOUDBURST IN INDIANA COUNTY

Kittanning, Pa., July 31.—Three miners are known to be dead as a result of a cloudburst, which struck the little town of Plumville, Indiana county late yesterday.

The three men were working in the mine of the Northern-Mine Company when the cloudburst caused water to rush in on the shaft after doing great damage to the town. The men drowned were Gus Carlson, 40; Gus Tener, 25, and Emil Johnson, 34.

A score of other men were employed in the mine, but it was believed they escaped the rush of the water.

START WORK ON A BEAUTIFUL SHAFT; MITCHELL TRIBUTE

Scranton, July 31. (United Press) Work has been started under the supervision of Peter B. Sheridan, Hasilton, on the foundation for the John Mitchell monument which will be unveiled October 29, Mitchell Day, at Scranton Court House Square.

Mitchell was one of the founders of the United Mine Workers and served as International President during the strikes of 1900 and 1902.

The dedication will be made the occasion of a big anthracite celebration and labor leaders from all over the country are expected to attend.

Methodists Of This District To Picnic At Lakeside Thursday

There are almost nine thousand Methodists in this section of the Altoona and Williamsport districts and some of the moving spirits of the church have evolved an idea of having a Methodist Day in this section.

The distance to Lakeside Park where the regular Methodist day is held is thought to be a disadvantage and since the beautiful Lakeside Park of the Methodist Episcopal Church is available for their use, they see no reason for going farther away in search for amusement.

The day set is Thursday of this week and the committee has issued a call for an all day basket picnic with lunches served on the grounds at a nominal cost to all who wish to buy.

The speakers will be Rev. H. L. Jacobs, of Clearfield; Rev. J. C. Collins of Curwensville; Rev. J. E. Skillington of Altoona and Superintendent Pyles of the Williamsport District will deliver the principal address at 10:30.

Special vocal music will be furnished by Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Graham of Patton; Mrs. John Chaplin, of Clearfield; Mrs. A. S. Rosenberg, of Philadelphia and Harold Pearson of Philadelphia. With Mr. Crawford Lindsey as violinist and Mrs. George Mock as reader, this promises to be a program of the highest type.

Everybody is invited.

MAY BE SERIOUS

Washington, July 31.—"The President's condition is most unfavorable" said a telegram today from Dr. C. E. Sawyer to President Harding's father, Dr. George T. Harding of Maion.

Dr. Harding now in his 80th year does not plan to go to his son's bedside. "As I understand the bulletin from Warren's sick room, the crisis will have been passed before I could reach San Francisco," the aged father said.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—In a five-roomed "White House" on the Palace hotel here, Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, is fighting for life.

He lay gravely ill today in a bed of solid walnut, surrounded by paneled walls, hung with tapestry in a suite occupied by but three other persons since it was constructed some 15 years ago. He was attended by five physicians and waited upon by his ever-faithful wife.

Outside this suite some 15 newspaper correspondents, numbers of secret service men and miscellaneous attendants walked quietly to and fro in an atmosphere heavy with smoke of untold numbers of cigarettes and countless cigars.

A bouquet of gladioli and asters stood down the corridor, mute reminder that it marks the line beyond which no one was supposed to pass to the President's sick room.

Mr. Harding occupied the President's suite as the fourth guest who has ever used it. Presidents Taft and Roosevelt occupied it and later the King of Belgium. Next week General Pershing was to have been assigned to it as a special honor but now this plan has been abandoned.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—At 10:00 a. m. physicians attending President Harding issued the following statement of the President's condition at 9:00 a. m.:

"The President had a fairly comfortable night with considerable restful sleep.

"His temperature at 9:00 was 100; pulse, 120; respiration, 40 and regular.

"There has been no extension of the pneumonia arisen and heart action is definitely improved.

"Nourishment and fluids are being taken regularly. Elimination is satisfactory.

"He expressed himself as feeling better and less exhausted."

Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Cal., President Harding lay gravely ill today, fighting for life against new complications including a touch of pneumonia that set in during the night.

At 4:00 o'clock this morning all was silent in Mr. Harding's chamber and those who waited anxiously outside took this as a hopeful sign that the President might be sleeping, gaining strength for the brave struggle he is making against death.

At 5:00 a. m. today, four hours had passed without any sign of activity in the President's suite, giving watchers reason to believe the executive was enjoying a fairly satisfactory rest.

Announcement that Mr. Harding's

Powell Weaver, Noted Concert Organist, To Give A Recital Friday

An unusual musical treat is in store for all who wish to attend on Friday evening of this week when Powell Weaver, a native of Clearfield who is visiting here, will give a pipe organ recital.

Mr. Weaver is a concert organist, he having that classification in the Kansas City, Mo., Rotary Club of which he is a member. He is also the official organist for Rotary International, the grand lodge of all Rotary Clubs.

The concert will be given Friday evening at the Trinity Methodist church and no admission will be charged but a collection will be lifted for the benefit of the "Elevator Fund" started by the Women's Auxiliary to the Clearfield hospital.

The local Rotary Club has been requested to supply the ushers for the recital and no doubt will be glad to perform this service as a mark of respect to their illustrious fellow Rotarian.

MAKERS OF STILL LIABLE TO ARREST SAYS PHILA. JUDGE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 31. (United Press)—Manufacturers of stills, coils, copper kettles and other apparatus used in the manufacture of liquor will hereafter be considered as guilty as those who have them in possession or operation, according to a recent ruling of Judge William C. Lewis, in the Criminal Division of Municipal Court, who instructed Assistant District Attorney John C. Bell, Jr., to order arrest of all such offenders.

"These things" said the judge, "aid in the violation of the federal laws regarding prohibition and may be a temptation to those who see them on display and to those who want to get alcoholic drinks even if they have to make the stuff themselves."

DRUNK, HE POURED OIL ON COMRADE, AND APPLIED MATCH

Nick Malenka, a miner, is now dead in a Johnstown hospital as a result of severe burns over his body and Frank Woydak, another miner, is in jail at Vintondale charged with pouring oil over Malenka's body and applying a match—all resulting from a drinking orgy said to have been staged near Vintondale yesterday afternoon.

Malenka was taken to the Johnstown hospital last night. His condition is extremely serious, institute attendants said, and he may not recover.

A crowd of aliens who work at the mines at Vintondale staged the party which resulted in a tragic finale to the drinking spree. All in the party are said to have imbibed freely.

Attempts to shed light on the party and on facts concerning Malenka's injuries were unsuccessful. The miner was too seriously injured to be interviewed, however, and the attempt was abandoned.

A complete investigation of the party and the burning of Malenka will be conducted when those who engaged in the drinking orgy have sufficiently recovered to answer questions, authorities said.

WOODRUFF TRYING HARD TO GET AID FROM S. S. LEWIS

Harriburg, Pa., July 31.—Auditor General Samuel S. Lewis will be party to proceedings against the State Treasurer in the event that he fails to sign warrants to pay employees whose salaries are now in dispute, according to Attorney General Woodruff today.

Failure of the Auditor General to comply with the request of the Attorney General to sign the warrants and present them to the Treasurer for payment in the opinion of the Attorney General, would constitute liability on his part.

Woodruff hoped today to bring the Auditor General in line with his views of the code with respect to the approval of requisitions.

KILLS CHILD, WIFE WHEN SHE REFUSES TO LIVE WITH HIM

Nant-y-Glo, July 30.—A stalwart miner's quest for love ended in death and an attempted suicide at Twin Rocks Saturday as unrequited love gathered another victim to its list.

"I won't, I won't live with you. I don't like you," Mary Sos, a 15-year-old wife, contemptuously told her husband. Enraged, Mike Sos, the man she took "for better or worse," chose the "worse" clause in his wife's wedding vow. Drawing a .32-calibre revolver from his pocket, he again asked his question.

"Mary, will you come home with me?"

His wife cast a withering glance at the man she had married.

"I don't like you, I don't. What's more, I won't live with you."

First Bullet in Breast.

The revolver barked five times. Mary Sos clutched her breast, where the first shot had taken effect. Then she fell dead.

Haunted by the last look in his wife's eyes, Sos fled wildly from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vargo at Twin Rocks, where his last attempt at reconciliation had met disdain and death. Into the back yard near the house he stumbled. Clutching the revolver in his right hand he pressed the cold steel muzzle against his head and pulled the trigger.

Is Expected to Die.

Last night at Memorial hospital here surgeons worked to save the murderer's life. Sos' condition, they said, was critical. It is doubtful whether he will recover, it was stated early this morning.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURT OF PHILA. PROVES FINE THING

Philadelphia, July 31. (United Press)—The Domestic Relations Division of the Municipal court handled more than 26,000 cases during the year of 1922, according to a report recently made public.

The system employed makes it possible to settle a fair percentage of the cases out of court thereby reducing the number of cases brought before the judge and allowing him time to give more careful consideration to the more complicated cases.

The majority of these cases have to do with desertion or non-support and 82.9 per cent were filed by women, the report states.

"When the complaint comes in she is given a sympathetic hearing," the report said. "The husband is then invited to come before the interviewer, and tell his side of the trouble. If the husband fails to appear a summons is issued and he is brought in."

"If the stories of the husband and wife conflict seriously, the case is referred to a probate officer for investigation. After both sides of the trouble have been heard separately an effort is made to have the husband and wife come in together and discuss their problems."

SECOND VICTIM OF SPEEDING CAR DIED YESTERDAY EVENING

DuBois, Pa., July 31.—Miss Anna Wallack, who was injured in the same automobile accident Sunday afternoon that resulted in the death of Miss Mary Rokoski, died at 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Maple Avenue hospital. At the time the first account of the accident was written it was not generally known that Miss Wallack had been seriously injured, the reports stating that she had suffered severe lacerations and bruises. But it developed that her spleen had been crushed, and she gradually grew worse until death came at the hour stated above.

The other persons injured in the wreck are getting along fairly well and it is believed that all of them will ultimately recover.

Dr. J. I. Pollum, county coroner, in pannelled a jury yesterday to investigate the circumstances in connection with the accident, and this jury deliberated yesterday afternoon, hearing several witnesses in the case.

It developed at the hearing that Wallack, the owner and driver of the car, does not have an owner's license or a driver's license, and that he was running at a fast clip when the car turned over.

The investigation will be continued today, and in addition to probing into the death of Miss Rokoski, the jury will take up the death of Miss Wallack, adding the circumstances in her death, which, of course, will be almost identical with those attendant upon the tragic death of Miss Rokoski.

Miss Wallack was a sister of "Choc Choc" Wallack, the driver of the car, and as a result of the tragic death of Miss Rokoski and his sister, the driver is frantic.

THIS STILL SO BIG IT COULDN'T GET AWAY FROM POLICE

Pittston, Pa., July 31.—Prohibition enforcement agents raided the largest moonshine plant yet confiscated in this section at the garage of Charles Austin and seized 2,500 gallons of contraband liquor and $2,500 worth of paraphernalia, Chief Harry Williams announced today.

LIGHTNING VICTIM OF JULY THE FOURTH DIED YESTERDAY

DuBois, Pa., July 31.—The heavy electrical storm that swept over this city on the morning of July 4, proved fatal at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when Frank McKolanis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKolanis, of Robinson street, died in the DuBois hospital of injuries received during the storm.

McKolanis, who was employed as a spinner-boy at the silk throwing factory, was crushed under brick's weight when a bolt of lightning struck the 35-foot smoke stack at the silk factory, sustaining a fractured skull from which he never recovered.

He was hurried to the DuBois hospital, where he remained unconscious, despite the best efforts of the physicians, and passed away at the time stated.

The deceased was 18 years of age and is survived by several brothers and sisters in addition to his parents.

THIS STILL SO BIG IT COULDN'T GET AWAY FROM POLICE

Pittston, Pa., July 31.—Prohibition enforcement agents raided the largest moonshine plant yet confiscated in this section at the garage of Charles Austin and seized 2,500 gallons of contraband liquor and $2,500 worth of paraphernalia, Chief Harry Williams announced today.

RICHMOND SUFFERS HEAVY RAINFALLS WITH BIG DAMAGE

Richmond, Va., July 31.—Richmond's lower main business section was flooded last night and early today by a torrential rain, which did property and stock damage estimated at $200,000.

For three hours rain poured in sheets and water began rising in the lower Valley in less than an hour after the storm broke.

Police and firemen were kept busy for hours rescuing more than one hundred people marooned in tottering houses. Beach guns, such as life savers use, were put into service to shoot ropes to those in distress. Eight feet of water covered Main street in front of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway station, boats being used by business houses on the opposite side of the street to salvage stocks.

NEW FOREST FIRE STARTER

Harriburg, July 1. (United Press)—A new forest fire carrier has been discovered by the State Department of Forests and Waters. A district forester has reported that recently a burning pheasant flew across the valley and dropping among the leaves started a fire.

This is even rarer according to the announcement of the incident, than the report that the sun's rays concentrated by broken bottles along the rights of way of railroads started a forest fire.

COURT DECREES 30 MORE DAYS FOR JULY BUT AUGUST WILL BE A LONG MONTH ANYHOW FOR THIS "SHINER"

July Becquet gave way to August today and was taken off the calendar and out of the picture for the next 30 days by Judge Bell this morning July as he is styled in the indictment as "Joey" as he calls himself, lives at Atlantic, above Houtzdale, and in these halcyon days when Atlantic moonshine was fought for at $7 per gallon at the door, was engaged in the gainful occupation of distilling a little for trade, but during the "lost days" of Atlantic was caught in the act and haled before the court for trifling with the law of the land.

July entered a plea of guilty on July 10th, but as he had a crop of rye in the ground or other farm work to do was allowed to go home to clean up that work before undergoing sentence. His house is now in order and this morning Becquet came to the Court House to receive his sentence. He was given $100 fine and costs and three months in jail with privilege of applying for a parole at the end of 30 days. Thus July will remain in total eclipse during August.

HUNDREDS SEARCH MOUNTAINS FOR GANG OF BANDITS

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 31.—Hundreds of armed policemen trudged wearily through the rain and mud this morning surrounding West Mountain near Taylor, Lackawanna county, where the seven bandits who shot a Laurel Line interurban train yesterday killed one person, wounded four others and escaped with a $500 pay roll, are believed to be hiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robison were advised by wire this morning of the death last evening at Atlantic City of their grandson, little Gilbert Landy, 22-month-old son of Gilbert and Esther Robison Landy, of Mahaffey. The little one had suffered an attack of double pneumonia several months ago and death was due to a complication of that trouble as a result of that attack.

PENFIELD MAN HIRED ANOTHER TO PROVIDE "MOUNTAIN LAMB" COSTS HIM $100 FOR DESPICABLE ACTION

Venison is always considered more or less of a delicacy, but it certainly comes a "leedle bit" high at 3100 per quarter these days. At least that is no doubt the opinion of L. W. Smith at Penfield. According to State Game Protector E. Clair Kelley, of DuBois, Smith called an employee of his at his mines, one George Hollabaugh, into conference on Sunday last and said "George, isn't it about time we had another mountain lamb?" George opined "it durn near was" and along towards evening of the Sabbath day Hollabaugh sneaked out to a salt lick he had already prepared at the old Blackwell dam on Laurel Run, about six miles from Penfield.

With his Winchester strapped to his back Hollabaugh climbed his scaffold tree just as the sun sank in the west down behind the roof of Smith's house in Penfield. Hollabaugh took his place on the platform, sighted his gun carefully at the "hoking place" and took up his vigil. He remained there fighting gnats and punkies, while Smith waited comfortably at home, until about midnight, when an unsuspecting deer, no doubt with a couple of young fawns at her side, walked boldly into the lick. The instant the woods pirate in the tree heard the doe at the lick he fired and the ball from his rifle sped unerringly, as no doubt many a one had before, through the body of the doe and she dropped to the ground dying while the motherless little fawns startled by the shot leaped into the brush and hid to await the coming of their mother who would never join them again.

Hollabaugh, his dirty work done, crawled down that tree and after hurriedly dressing the deer, loaded it up and soon had it back home. When Smith arranged to have "George do it," he also told him to fetch his share to the house and leave it on the back porch. So upon his arrival home George dashed off a hind quarter of the deer and placed it where Smith had directed that it be placed.

"Murder will out," as a general proposition, and while it may not have done so many times before for this pair, it did this time and word of the illegal killing soon reached the ears of State Game Warden E. Clair Kelley, at DuBois. Kelley got a search warrant for Hollabaugh's boarding house and going to Penfield secured the assistance of Constable Chambers and a brief search disclosed the carcass of the doe, with one quarter missing.

Hollabaugh claimed that he and his family of boarders had eaten the missing portions but Kelly couldn't see it that way and insisted on knowing what had become of it. Hollabaugh refused to squeal on his partner until he was taken before a Justice of the Peace. He was fined $100 and costs for killing a deer at a lick and when told he was subject to a total fine of $425 and would be made pay it if he didn't tell who got the missing portion of the deer, Hollabaugh then decided to come across and gave the facts as outlined to us by the Game Protector and tucked upon in this story.

Armed with Hollabaugh's confession Game Protectors Kelly, Davis of Clearfield and Turley of Ridgway, dropped in on Smith at Penfield yesterday with a warrant for his arrest and no game law violator in the land was more surprised than was he when Kelly flashed the warrant on him. He attempted a half-hearted bluff, but Hollabaugh's confession soon punctured the bluff and Smith decided discretion to be the better part of valor by also confession his part in the illegal killing and paying his $100 fine and costs.

GRANDSON DIES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Robison were advised by wire this morning of the death last evening at Atlantic City of their grandson, little Gilbert Landy, 22-month-old son of Gilbert and Esther Robison Landy, of Mahaffey. The little one had suffered an attack of double pneumonia several months ago and death was due to a complication of that trouble as a result of that attack.

COLLECTORS GET FUNDS FOR SHRINE OF ST. ANNE

Announcement was made in the Catholic churches of Altoona Sunday that work had been received from the Redemptorist Fathers of Canada, stating that no authorized collectors have been sent out from Canada to secure funds for the shrine of St. Anne in Quebec.

Men, representing themselves as collectors for the shrine of St. Anne in Canada have been operating in Altoona within the past few weeks. Their plan has been to secure $3 from each person, $1 of which is said to pay for the little magazine "Annals of St. Anne," and the remainder to be devoted to restoring the basilica of the shrine recently destroyed by fire.

These collectors also operated in Clearfield a couple of weeks ago and collected many dollars. Some of those who paid part of the subscription have been notified to remit the balance to the New York office of the concern; the collectors allege to represent.

One of these fellows, who gave his name as James while operating here was arrested in Punksawney, last week and heavily fined for insulting a woman in whose home he was endeavoring to secure a subscription. It was found that the fellow's name was John J. Harrington, instead of James.

July Becquet gave way to August today and was taken off the calendar and out of the picture for the next 30 days by Judge Bell this morning July as he is styled in the indictment as "Joey" as he calls himself, lives at Atlantic, above Houtzdale, and in these halcyon days when Atlantic moonshine was fought for at $7 per gallon at the door, was engaged in the gainful occupation of distilling a little for trade, but during the "lost days" of Atlantic was caught in the act and haled before the court for trifling with the law of the land.

July entered a plea of guilty on July 10th, but as he had a crop of rye in the ground or other farm work to do was allowed to go home to clean up that work before undergoing sentence. His house is now in order and this morning Becquet came to the Court House to receive his sentence. He was given $100 fine and costs and three months in jail with privilege of applying for a parole at the end of 30 days. Thus July will remain in total eclipse during August.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

The last legislature made a number of minor changes in the Game Laws of the State and as the frost will ere long be making its annual pilgrimage to the pumpkin, with the fodder in the dock nearby, we give some of the changes herewith, together with provisions as to bag limits and season changes. Wise up boys, or Kelly and I can get you —

Section, 311 Certain Acts Declared Unlawful.—It is unlawful for any person,

(a) Except in the defence of person or property, to hunt or chase or to shoot at or kill or pursue with intent to take, kill, or wound any wild birds or wild animals with firearms or with a device of any kind propelling with force a leaden or metal pellet or bullet,

or through the use of traps, or with any other device or instrument, or by the use of dogs, without first securing a license and license tag, and wearing such tag and showing and displaying such license as required by the provisions of this article. Nothing in this clause shall be construed to prevent any person under the age of sixteen years to trap for fur-bearing animals or vermin without securing a license;

(b) Under the age of fourteen years to receive a hunting license under any circumstances whatsoever;

(c) Under the age of sixteen years to receive a hunting license without presenting a written request therefor, bearing the signature of his father or mother or legally constituted guardian;

(d) Under the age of sixteen years to use firearms of any kind for the purpose of hunting any wild birds or wild animals unless accompanied by a person twenty-one years of age, or over, unless such hunting is done on the premises whereon person resides;

(e) To procure a license under an assumed name, or in which an address other than his legal place of residence or other false statement whatsoever in securing a license;

(f) To lend or transfer a license or tag to another;

(g) To knowingly issue or aid in securing a license, and the provisions of this act, for his self or any other person not legally entitled to the same;

(h) After being denied the right to hunt by action of the board, to hunt anywhere during the period such right has been denied with or without a hunter's license; or

(i) After conviction of a second or subsequent offense of violating any of the game laws, to hunt anywhere with or without a hunter's license, for a period of two years from the date of such conviction.

Hunting Season—Bag Limits

Season 501. Open Season.—The open season for game birds and game animals, Sundays and other periods fixed by special regulations for particular counties excepted, is as follows:

Woodcock, from Oct. 1st to Nov. 30th.

Woodcock, from Oct. 1st to Nov. 30th.

All birds known as wild waterfowl, from Oct. 1st to Jan. 15th.

Wild turkey, ruffed grouse, commonly called quail, gambel quail, valley quail and Hungarian quail, and gray, black and fox squirrel, from Nov. 1st to Nov. 30th.

Wild rabbit and hare, from Nov. 1st to Dec. 15th.

Male deer, with two or three points to one antler. Provided a male deer with an antler six or more inches long without points measuring from the top of the skull as the deer is in life shall be considered legal, from Dec. 1st to Dec. 15th.

Roman Soldiers' "Smokes."
Records recently discovered show that the Roman soldiers in Caesar's time had their pipes. Of course they knew nothing about real tobacco, as that had not at that period been discovered. However, they did have pipes and they smoked lavender and hemp, and from all accounts they liked it and it served almost the same purpose. In fact, it is said to have been a great solace and stimulus to the soldiers.

HITCHING NATURE'S LINE OF FORCE
Burnell R. Ford, inventor of the instrument which will tell a sailor exactly where he is, how fast he is going and whether he is right side up or upside down under any conditions, inventor of war-time instruments of a radio character of great value to the government, lecturer known to almost every city from New Orleans to Alaska, and Los Angeles to Bangor, Me., believes that the great power developments of the future will come from the utilization of light rays, and from the lines of force surrounding the earth. He spends half of each year in his laboratory at Long Beach, California, and a great much of his time to the development of power from the two sources last named. Partial success has led him to hope for a realization of his dream before many years.
In addition to being a scientist, of national attainments, Mr. Ford is known as one of the most engaging personalities on the lecture platform today, and has combined a series of intricate radio-electrical experiments with a popular lecture in such a way as to give his hearers the maximum of knowledge as well as entertainment. Mr. Ford will give this lecture on the second night of the Champlain program to be given here.

With the frequency of murder, robbery and all kinds of outrages being paraded before us daily it is little wonder that people are taking no chances in matters of personal safety. That we have in our population a considerable number of men who are murderers at heart is a real cause for alarm and a careless handling or display of valuables should be avoided.

It is questionable, however, whether conditions are worse, and it is not likely that they are. News transmission which tells us this evening of all that happened today is responsible for the general belief that crime is rampant. While there are better things to read, it is not the function of the newspapers to provide it. Only the unusual gets a place in the news of the day. A mysterious murder gets the attention of the reader first and holds his interest to the last. The very fact that the greatest publicity is given to these few major crimes is a deterrent and, thanks to newspapers, it is no longer possible for hands of swindlers, pirates or bandits to operate upon an unsuspecting people.

How shall we guard against the holdup man, the thief, the bandit? First, by properly guarding money in transit. Second, by avoiding a display of valuables about the person. The gun is practically useless. It is seldom indeed that the possession of a gun has thwarted the holdup man or the robber, but the news columns are full of accounts of fatal accidents and misuses of guns kept or carried for self protection. Even the so-called watch dog is valueless. Modern criminals can easily dispose of a dog, and do. Not so with innocent children who are at times the victims of vicious brutes trained to attack any who approach them. Such an instance is reported from a little town in New Jersey. Two great Danes were owned by a man whose proud boast it was that nobody could gain entrance to his grounds with them on guard. A criminal would have easily put these brutes to sleep. A nine year old boy who knew nothing of the savage dogs, wandered onto the grounds while playing. The dogs set upon him and literally tore him to pieces. A crowd of fifty or more who gathered were forced to look upon this horrible sight.

The bandit is preferable to the man who puts his trust in vicious animals and is deserving of more consideration.

In fact bandits should be the least of our worries. Few indeed have been the deaths from banditry within a radius of one hundred miles of Clearfield. Our automobile death list from within that radius would look like the casualty list from the Somme and in spite of this we are told of somebody we know driving a car while drunk as though it is a huge joke.

We would prefer bandits to Mike Sos of Twin Rocks, who shot his fifteen year old child wife because she refused to live with him. Little Mary, his wife, was probably married to him when thirteen or fourteen; a common practice right here in enlightened America. In childish frankness she told him her thoughts. She is dead but she is better off. We have read of Turkish girls killing themselves rather than submit to marriage to one not of their choosing.

Bandits are not really as dangerous as the man who drinks moonshine and while under its influence does fiendish things such as did Frank Woydak of Vintondale, who poured oil on the clothing of his buddy in a drinking bout and then set fire to him. Moonshine vendors are killing more people than bandits.

Bandits go out and kill their own prey. Not so with the Penfield man who hired another to do his illegal game shooting and thus depriving honest sportsmen of their privileges.

Bandits are not so bad after all.

condition was grave was made by the five attending physicians in an official bulletin, issued at 9:15 p. m. last time, following an examination and consultation. This bulletin disclosed the fact that an ex-ray examination was made early in the evening, which had shown Mr. Harding to be suffering from broncho pneumonia of the right lung.

Outside the hotel the streets of San Francisco were gay with flags and welcoming decorations. This morning the President was to have received the joyous salutation of the city.

There will be no salutation today but from every corner of the city, every man and woman of every degree, station and walk in life, from officials and private citizens have come offers of aid and service.

Hospitals sent invitations but Dr. Sawyer announced he would not move the President to a hospital as he could be cared for just as well in the hotel.

San Francisco, Cal., July 31.—The President's five physicians gathered in his sick room early today to mark the progress of battle.

From their morning examination of the President and subsequent consultation, word was expected which would tell a nation whether Mr. Harding, guided by agents of science, will win.

Bulletin of the President's condition was promised as early as conditions in the sick room would permit.

This bulletin, it was expected, would show whether the broncho-pneumonia condition, which developed in the President's right lung with alarming suddenness last night had subsided or progressed unfavorably for the patient. It was also expected to reveal how Mr. Harding's heart, already overtaxed, is standing its task of combating poisons in the executive's system and congestion in the lungs.

All through the night Dr. C. E. Sawyer, Dr. Joel T. Boone and Dr. Rupert Work, all three physicians with the President's party alternated in keeping watch over him.

San Francisco, July 31.—President Harding is better this morning. A good night's rest, the best since he became ill has caused his personal physician Dr. Charles Sawyer to issue an optimistic statement on the President's condition, ending a night of anxiety caused by unfavorable developments last evening.

Dr. Sawyer told assembled newspaper men that he had seen the President at two o'clock and again shortly before eight o'clock.

"The President slept several hours resting well," Dr. Sawyer said. "His condition is well; his condition seems to warrant a statement that we are about to have clear sailing. You will understand that this statement of mine antedates the consultation of five doctors to be held later this morning following which an official bulletin will be issued, but I wanted to give you a general idea as to the President's condition this morning."

Ten Years of His Life Wasted.

WEST SIDE M. E. CHOR HONORS DEPARTING MEMBER

Twenty members and friends of the choir of the West Side M. E. church held a surprise farewell party for Miss Dorothy Armstrong at the Hill Mill club house last evening. Miss Armstrong will go to Williamsport soon to become private secretary to President Long at Dickinson Seminary, and last evening's reception was given her in recognition of her faithful and very valuable services as a member of the choir.

An entertaining program of games and stunts had been worked out by those in charge and an evening of merriment was concluded by a tasty lunch. Miss Armstrong has been a most valuable member of the choir and although her friends wish her unbounded success in her new field they are loath to lose her delightful companionship.

DAVID W. CATHCART DIES

David W. Cathcart, a member of one of Clearfield county's best known families, died at his home, 1461 Washington avenue, Altoona, at 12:05 o'clock Monday morning, of Bright's disease, after an illness of more than two years.

The deceased was born in Knox township, this county, on Nov. 17, 1858, and made his home near New Millport until about 17 years ago, when he went to Altoona, where he had since resided.

Dave Cathcart was an honest, upright man. He was a hail fellow well met at all times and possessed a legion of warm friends in Clearfield county. He is survived by two brothers, Wesley and Grant Cathcart, of Olanta, and one sister, Mrs. Cora Shellow, of Tyrone.

Funeral services will be held at his late home in Altoona this evening at 8 o'clock and will be taken to Mt. Zion cemetery, near Olanta, on the New York Central train for interment.

PLEASANT BIRTHDAY OCCASION

A few of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Lewis of Glen Richy gathered at their home Friday evening to remind Mrs. Lewis it was her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent.

A delicious luncheon was served. At a late hour all departed for homes, wishing Mrs. Lewis many more such happy events. Those present were Mrs. Larson and daughter Edith, Mrs. Arthur Smith and granddaughter Leona Smith, Mrs. Alex Ward and little daughter, Mrs. Lynn Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis and daughter Velma, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Levin, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Lewis and little son Amos James.

New York, July 31.—President Harding's illness was an outstanding factor affecting trading in the New York Stock Exchange this morning. As a result of the President's condition the tone of the market was irregular. The general list reacted a point in early trading but later recovered substantially upon advice that Mr. Harding was somewhat improved.

IS OF INTEREST TO NUMBER OF LOCAL GOLFERS

Walter Hagen, open golf champion of 1922, and Joseph Kirkwood, Australian champion and a prominent figure in all the recent national and international golf competitions, will play 18 holes of match play on the grounds of the Punxsutawney Country club the afternoon of August 3.

Following the 18-hole match between the two celebrities Kirkwood, recognized as the greatest trick golf shot in the world will give an hour's exhibition.

The coming of Hagen, the premier of all golfers, and of Kirkwood, will make golfing history for Punxsutawney and vicinity. Both are recognized as the top notch golfers of America, and it is expected that pasture pool enthusiasts from throughout Western Pennsylvania will be here to see the play.

The match is scheduled to start at 2 p. m. on the afternoon of Wednesday, August 8. The admission fee will be $2.

Proper Disposal of Flags.
"Old and wornout flags should be destroyed as a whole, privately, preferably by burning. Do not cast them aside or use them in any way that might be thought disrespectful to the flag," says the adjutant general of the United States army.

Liquid Fire

A liquid fire to the bedbugs, moths and roaches is what the new chemical discovery really is, although there is no damage to be done by using it to your springs, furniture or clothing.

This new chemical is known as "Devil's Quietness," P. D. Q. Co. See but these few cents will have the power of ridding your house of bedbugs, moths and roaches. If you purchase P. D. Q. it is used and recommended by the leading housewife and railroad companies at the rate of one quart of liquid fire to each bedbug, moth or roach. It is also sold in sealed bottles, and is non-toxic, liquid form.

LIMBER MINDS SAVE JARS

By Florence Davies

Scissors say that you can't believe what you read in the papers. Those of us who spent our lives within sound of the presses know that newspapers try to print the truth.

That's why the story of a man who fell from the third story window of a hotel and landed on his feet with no harm done but a broken heel, sets us to wondering.

Unlike scissors, we know that if the paper said so, it is probably true. But the incident seems almost impossible of belief.

Matching it is the tale of a baby who leaned against the screen of a fourth story window and landed in a flower bed below, not much the worse for his adventure.

These spectacular aerial adventures should not be taken as an encouragement to amateur aviators, but there is a worth while hint tucked away in each experience, at that.

The man who took the downward plunge fell in his sleep. Suffice to say that striking the ground served to wake him. But there can be no doubt that he owes his life to the fact that he chose his sleeping instead of his waking hours to walk out of a third floor window, because in his sleep he was utterly relaxed. So too, with the baby. He was too young to consider the matter seriously, and so he went volplaning down with muscles limber instead of tense.

If only we could all learn to take our bumps that way there would be fewer broken bones, and broken hearts and shattered nerves. But most of the time we fall hard. We tighten every nerve and muscle and beat our way against life that way.

Minds, as well as muscles, can be kept relaxed, if only we will learn the trick of it.

Pushing the street car or the bus with your mind all the way to town when we are late, doesn't get an inch of ground or save a moment. It just makes you more when you get there. Some people their minds tense all the time no matter what unpleasant strikes them something is a break. Nerves go smash 'who live like that!

Even getting ready to go on a vacation, or planning a new dress to be made over into a tense, has instead of a simple, easy one I way we keep our minds in relax it. Some people take it easy along, and others almost hold breath in their intensity of planning and shopping and striving to conditions meet their demands.

When a big principle is at an unyielding mind may be near. But the hard and fast, intense yielding attitude of mind is a to use on the little affairs of e living.

Some people get just as over the purchase of a spool of or a little argument over it of a shoe or the shade of a s as they would over their soul's tion. In that spirit, little anno, grate and jar, just as little st would jar a body held rigid.

Take it gently; the going easier and the journey smoother. Intensities are for only once o in a life time. For the rest of t keep the mind relaxed. Disa ments won't hurt half as muc

CLEARFIELD TRUST CO.

PLAYGROUND NEWS

Rainy weather is not good playground weather but the last week's attendance is 1916 for all the two last days, making the total for the season 9630—nearly as many as Clearfield's population. The Friday base ball between Witmer and East End was played off on the Hillsdale diamond yesterday afternoon, with a score 16-8 in Witmer's favor.

The regular base ball day has been changed from Friday to Thursday to suit the business of several of the players. The games this Thursday will be East End to Witmer and West Side to Reedsville.

The horseshoe schedule for August will simply repeat that of July as all teams have pitched an equal number of games.

July 31—Reed to E. E.; W. S. to Witmer.

Aug. 3—E. E. to W. S.; Witmer to Reed.

Aug. 7—Reed to W. S.; E. E. to Witmer.

Aug. 10—E. E. to Reed; Witmer to West Side.

Aug. 17—W. S. to Reed; Witmer to E. E.

Aug. 17—Reed to E. E.; W. S. to Witmer.

Aug. 21—W. S. to E. E.; Witmer to Reed.

The remainder of the schedule will be announced later as by that time the above schedule has been played the playground championship will be the matter needing settlement.

have a complete program of play-ground activities. The other wards are getting in on this with match games in volley and horseshoes. East End and Reedsville girls will play West Side in volley and the Witmer boys, East End will pitch Witmer and Reedsville pitch the West Side team after which the winners will play off. These are not championship games but rivalry is strong and the outcome will be interesting. All games will start promptly at 7 p. m. Other features on the party program will be announced later in the week.

Beets Help Soil.

Beet crops have the effect of stimulating the soil. Observations made abroad show that after beets have been grown on the land there has been an increase in the yield of wheat of 5.50 bushels per acre; rye, 1.50; barley, 6.51, and oats, 5.77. Cattle have increased and the net income has been raised as high as 70 per cent.

To Make Hot Water Bottle Stay Hot. To fill a hot-water bottle for an invalid, fill it half full and lay the bottle flat, holding the mouth up until water appears in the neck of the bottle. Then screw in the stopper, thus excluding the air. The bottle will be soft and the water will keep hot longer.—Designer.

Soul That Is Truly Great.

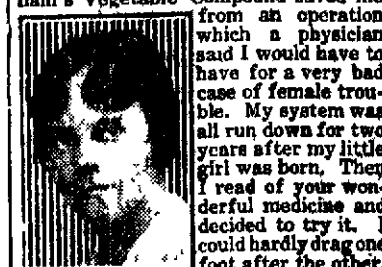

Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions about us and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the peace and sweetness of solitude.

Famous Old City. The Hague has a population of 300,000. It is located in southern Holland and is the seat of the Dutch government. It is a fashionable and handsome city with fine streets and avenues and attractive squares.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Now Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Washington, D. C.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which a physician said I would have to have for a very bad case of female trouble. My system was all run down for two years after my little girl was born. Then I read of your wonderful medicine and decided to try it. I could hardly drag one foot after the other, and after taking six bottles of the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I now do all my housework, also washing and ironing, and do not know what real trouble is. My health is fine, and I weigh 140 pounds. When I started taking it I weighed 97 pounds. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any one who is suffering from female trouble or is run down. You may use this testimonial for I am only too glad to let suffering women know what the Vegetable Compound did for me."—Mrs. IMA HEWITT, 1529 Penna. Ave. S. E., Washington, D. C.

Such letters from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Curwensville's Own Column

Messrs. Thomas Forcey and Miles Survey left for Johnstown yesterday, where each have accepted a lucrative position.

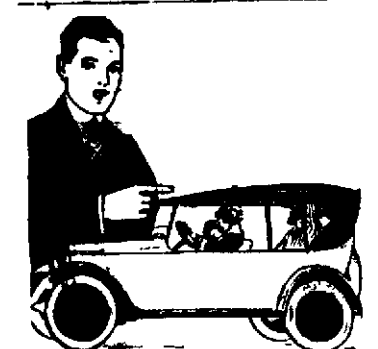

Thomas Dale, wife and child, came up from Philadelphia Sunday for a short visit at the home of Squire and Mrs. Dale on River street.

Mrs. James C. Wright, South Liberty street, was stricken suddenly ill Saturday evening. For a time it was reported her case was critical, but at this writing (Monday evening) she is somewhat improved.

The A. W. Kirk property is being repainted. A machine for pointing is being used on the brick work, while the woodwork is all hand work. Robison & Son are the contractors.

A birthday party was given at the home of Henry Heitzenrath where he resides about midway between Curwensville and Bridgeport, last Saturday evening at which all of his children were present, with one exception. There were 15 grandchildren present to enliven the party. An elegant repast had been prepared by the ladies, of which all partook. We do not like to give Henry's age away to his friends, but he will never live to see another 58th birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. William Post were the guests of honor outside of Henry.

Ye correspondent was sitting on the curbing yesterday afternoon, when Chief Clark came skidding along in his big touring car and invited your humble servant of the cross to take a ride out into the country. Thinking a little fresh country air would live up to a bit we hopped into the vehicle and were on our way, taking the river road to Lumber City, where the Chief had a little legal business to transact. The river road is a delightful drive and the roadbed was as smooth as portions of the state highways. The mountain scenery along his river drive is a joy to any artist's eye. We tarried a short space in the little ancient village, which by the way was a prominent town on the state map during the early days of lumbering activities, and the Chief, concluding the business which took him up there, we rolled on up the river until we reached a town known as Bell's Landing. There are no many houses in this village but if we are permitted to judge from the manner in which the properties are managed the people must all be doing well and prospering. A short pause was made at the Mitchell store for refreshments. Even in this remote section we were able to find Clearfield ice cream and DuBois "budweiser" drinks. The natives back us a little far out when we lined up to the outside and then our engineer opened wide the throttle and we were on our

THE TOP OF PERFECTION

We point with pride to the auto tops made in our shop for they all give lasting satisfaction, both from a standpoint of service and appearance. Ask any car owner in this city who has had a top made here and get his verdict on our ability. Then act on the tip and let us make a top for you.

Undertaker Invented Phone.

Inventors who have new ideas which are foreign to their vocations or lines of business may derive encouragement from the fact that the inventor of the first practical system of automatic telephony was Almon B. Strowger of Kansas City, who took out a patent in 1888. The inventor of the Strowger system was an undertaker who was in no way connected with electrical engineering or with any telephone enterprise.

Just What She Wanted.

There was a shriek and a splash, followed by another splash immediately afterward, as the would-be rescuer swam to where the lady had disappeared under the water. He caught her as she struggled to the surface and sought to calm her. "Don't struggle, madam," he spluttered. "We are quite safe; the lake is quite calm and as clear as a mirror and—" "Well, let go my arms, then," said the now comforted lady, "and let me look into it. I think my hair is coming down."

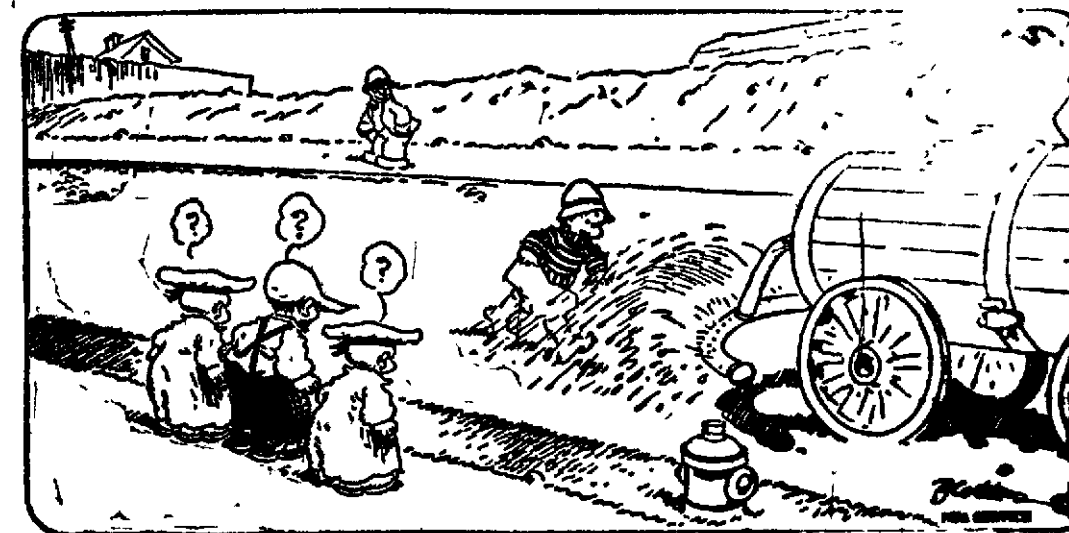

Tribles Hardness of Leather.

A Norwegian engineer claims that he has discovered a process by which leather can be made two or three times as hard as it is normally, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This is of very special interest in these days of high prices for footwear and other leather goods. While the leather can be made as hard as wood, it does not lose its elasticity, it is said, and acquires greater resistance to heat and moisture.
